

Morocco Sultan Defies French

Won't Give Up Throne, Aide Claims

Refusal Snarls French Attempts To Settle Crisis

AIN LES BAINS, France (AP)—Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat dropped a bombshell into the French-Moroccan conference here today with a statement that he does not intend to quit his throne.

The statement was released by the Sultan's chief of protocol, Si Abderrahman El Hajoui, generally regarded the power behind the Moroccan throne in Rabat. El Hajoui conferred with French ministers this morning, immediately on his arrival here from Rabat.

The Sultan's refusal to leave the throne gravely complicates efforts of French Premier Edgar Faure to settle the Moroccan crisis in a deal with Moroccan nationalists who have been demanding Ben Arafat's removal.

French Surprised

An agreement under which Ben Arafat would leave the throne had been reported by high French officials as all but set.

The French and the nationalists had virtually reached a complete agreement on the terms of a settlement whereby Ben Arafat would be replaced by a "council of the throne," and the government run by a representative coalition.

The Sultan's adamant stand jeopardizes Faure's program because Defense Minister Pierre Koenig reflects the views of an important section of Faure's own coalition government in Paris.

Wants Clean Slate

Faure's plan reportedly also included the removal of French resident General Gilbert Grandval to appease diehard French colonialists. The idea was to clean the slate in preparation for giving home rule to the violence-ridden North African protectorates.

"We are making progress," Faure told reporters Thursday night after meeting with leaders of the strongest nationalist faction, the Istiqlal Independence party.

"Everything has not been settled yet, but I now see my way clear," the Premier added.

Faure arranged to meet today with representatives of the French colonialists, a delegation from Morocco's Jewish community, and a group of Moslem religious leaders.

Not Fired

Grandval will come here tomorrow.

Nine State Employees Refuse Loyalty Oath

Quaker Unit Lists State School Man

Dixon Sources Deny Any Protests To Oath Locally

CHICAGO (AP)—Nine state employees, including one from the Dixon State School, have refused to sign a loyalty oath required by a new law passed by the Legislature, the American Friends Service Committee said today in Chicago.

The Dixon employee is John R. Bradshaw, psychiatric social worker, according to the committee. He has resigned his position.

However, in Dixon, Supt. Robert E. Wallace of the State School, said that, to his knowledge, Bradshaw did not resign because of the loyalty oath, and had left the state service before the order became effective.

Bradshaw was listed as a Dixon School employee, but Wallace said he actually worked in Chicago in the social service office the school operates there.

Wallace said the signing of loyalty oaths at the school is virtually complete, and there have been no protests.

The Friends committee said in a statement that of the nine who refused to sign, one was discharged, one quit, two were asked to resign and did, four others have been asked to resign, and one is working without pay.

Another employee has announced he will refuse to sign, one signed under protest, and two others said they plan to sign under protest, the committee said.

The Broyles Bill, sponsored by State Sen. Paul W. Broyles (R-Mount Vernon), requires that all state employees, including teachers, swear that they are not members of the Communist party or knowingly affiliated with a subversive organization. Those who refused to sign cannot be paid, under the law.

Issue Statement
The 13 state employees involved, issued a statement in which they said that "We, too, regard the world Communist movement and Communist-dominated regimes in Russia and other lands as a serious threat to democratic values."

The statement added, however, that the oath is a "non-disloyalty oath" and such oaths are "a sign of encroaching tyranny."

The employees' statement said they will participate in setting up a fund to help support those discharged.

Oregon Quaker Oats Employees Receive Bonus

OREGON—(Special)—Employees at the Oregon plant of The Quaker Oats Company received $14,870 today in annual profit-sharing checks.

This 20th yearly wage bonus added an average of $225 to the employees' regular earnings during the company's recently ended business year.

G. H. Simmons, plant manager, explained that 66 local employees were eligible this year to share in company profits. Eligibility, he said, is chiefly dependent upon six months or more of service.

Similar checks also went out to workers in Quaker Oats' Chicago headquarters and in its other plants, grain elevators and sales offices throughout the country. Total profit-sharing sum was $1,377,011.

The plan was voluntarily established by Quaker Oats 20 years ago. It calls for setting aside each year a percentage of company earnings. Employees thus share profits whenever the firm has a successful year. To date, they have shared a total of $15,456,362 above their regular earnings.

Senate Republicans Say 'Green Men' Are Demos

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republicans suggested today the "little green men" reported sighted recently in Kentucky "were desperate Democrats looking for a candidate in 1956."

This tongue-in-cheek explanation was offered by the Senate Republican Memo, an occasional publication issued by the Senate GOP Policy Committee staff.

It said the Democrats are green with envy at the popularity of President Eisenhower, adding:

"And he is the man they expect to have to defeat in 1956."

As to possible Democratic candidates, the GOP document said:

"A wide split in Democratic ranks has left the party desolate, desperate and destitute."

"Carmine de Sapio, New York's undisputed Tammany boss, has in effect excommunicated Adlai Stevenson because of his left-wing leanings and port-side support. His choice is W. Averell Harriman who—tinged with the taint of the Roosevelt era—is not, so Mr. de Sapio would have us believe, as far left as Stevenson but is still too far for the conservative elements of the Democratic South."

and Dave Barbour; "Louisiana Hayride" by Dietz and Schwartz; and "Robbin's Brothers Triumphal," a march by O. A. Gilson.

Next will be the "Big Brass Band From Brazil," arranged by Paul Yoder; the "Anniversary Song," a waltz by Al Johnson and Saul Chaplin; "Bull's Triumphal March" by W. E. Flathers; "The Golden West," a march by C. H. Hermann; the "Too Fat Polka," arranged by Dave Bennett; and "Ringling Brothers' Grand Entry," a march by Al Sweet.

The band will also play a concert starting at 2 p. m. Sunday in Lowell Park.

Russians 'Jam' Voice of Own Farm Delegate

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Soviet stations kept up their customary jamming of the Voice of America today while the U. S. government station repeated a broadcast to Russia by the head of Russian farm delegation in America.

Engineers at the VOA's relay station here reported "no perceptible change" in Soviet jamming during Russian-language broadcasts by Vladimir Matskevich, Soviet first deputy minister of agriculture who led the Russian farm tour of the United States.

Matskevich said in his broadcast that the Russian farm delegation had received "a friendly and hospitable welcome" in the United States and had seen "useful things that may be applied in the state and collective farms of the Soviet Union."

Mother, Husband at Evelyn's Bedside

'Sky Devils' Disband For Season After Performance

Troupe's Attention Turns To Gravely-Injured 'Daisy'

By MONTE HELME
Telegraph Staff Writer

The "Four Sky Devils" gave their final performance of the season here Thursday night, then turned their attention to the grave condition of their fellow-trooper, Mrs. Ray "Daisy" Marrion.

Ray Marrion, her husband, today reaffirmed his decision to disband the act at least for the season and said he will stay with his wife "as long as possible." He flew to Dixon Wednesday to replace his wife in the act.

Meanwhile there has been no change in Mrs. Marrion's "critical" condition, according to Dixon KSB hospital.

Her doctors give her only a "fair" chance of surviving her 80-foot fall Tuesday. The mishap occurred when the support ropes around her ankles broke during the featured "breakaway" act.

Five Performances

The troupe had been scheduled to perform five times here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in conjunction with the "Injun Summer Days" festival now in progress. They were paid $100 a performance.

Marrion appeared exhausted this morning in the hospital when he explained that the troupe gave only the evening performance Thursday because one of the members had been ill in the afternoon.

He said they mounted the towering rigging last night to "fulfill the contract."

Before starting his climb, Marrion walked over to his three-year-old daughter, Sheila, and kissed her. Sheila witnessed her mother's fall Tuesday.

Marrion confided that he hadn't eaten since he learned of the accident and has not been able to sleep.

"About the only relaxation I've had since I arrived in Dixon was during our three performances," he added.

Mother, Sister Here

Mrs. Clinton Luck, Portland, Ore., and Mrs. John Carroll, San Francisco, Calif., Mrs. Marrion's mother and a sister, arrived in Dixon Thursday morning.

Mrs. Marrion is one of five sisters. Her father, who did not make the trip, is a Salvation Army worker in Portland.

Chief of Police Earl Kelchner and Officer Robert McCoy left about 10:15 a. m. today for Springfield to have the pieces of rope but thought it was strange that both ropes parted. They are supposed to hold 900 pounds, according to Mrs. Luck.

No Enemies

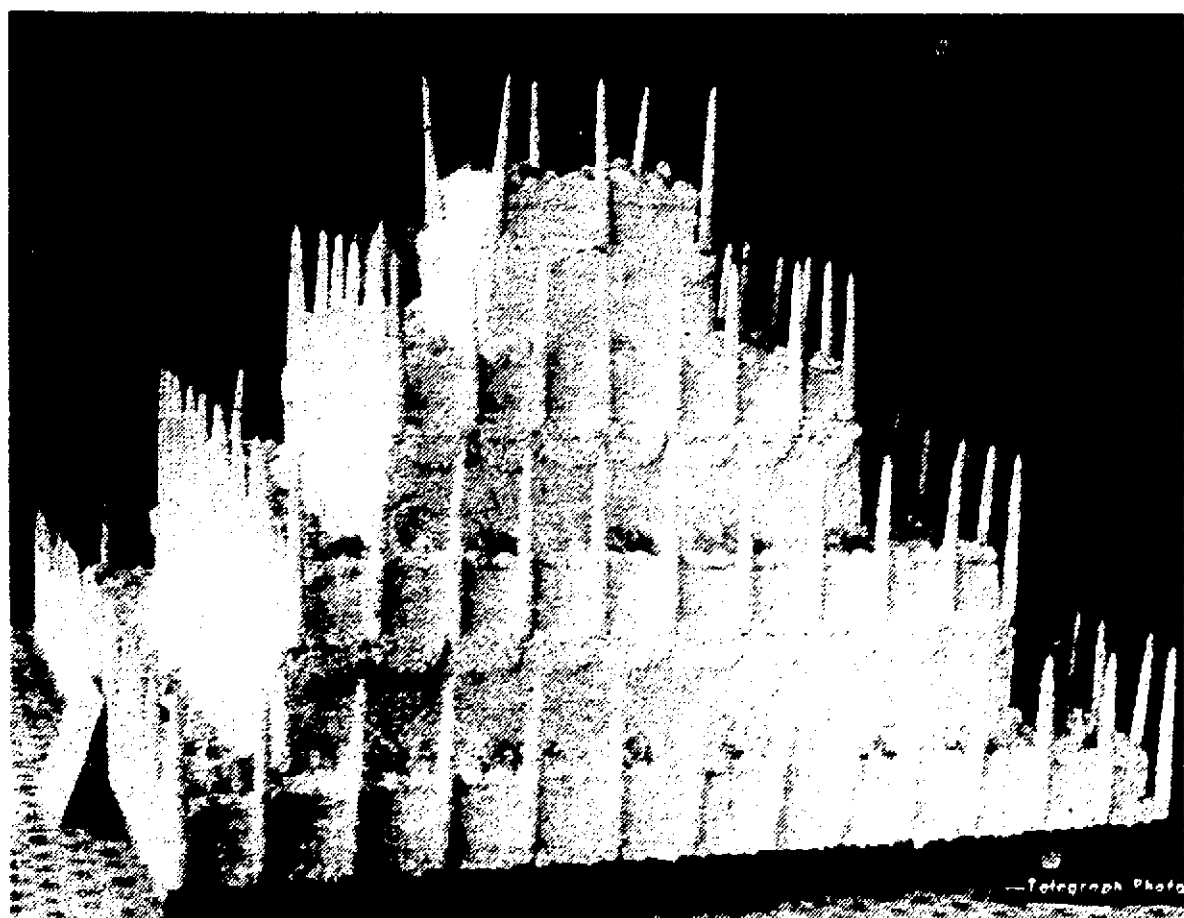

"Daisy didn't have an enemy in the world," she added, "and was loved by everyone."

Mrs. Luck said that she knew of no friction or jealousy between her daughter and her son-in-law nor among any members of the troupe.

Marrion said that he was satisfied that his wife's fall had been an accident. They have been married nine years. The first Mrs. Marrion was killed in an aerialist accident in Canada.

The troupe had been scheduled to appear today at the Iowa State Fair, Des Moines. They had been "booked up solid" through September, according to a statement Mrs. Marrion made Tuesday before her fall.

Who'll Blow Out the Candles?

TO HELP CELEBRATE DIXON'S 125th BIRTHDAY this huge cake, weighing 200 pounds and decorated with 125 candles, will be cut at 9:30 p. m. today as part of Dixon's anniversary celebration in connection with Injun Summer Days. The cake measures four feet square by 50 inches tall. Mayor William Slothower will cut the cake and portions will be given to the public by the Men's Garden Club queen candidates.

Dixon Girl, 11, Slightly Injured In Bike-Car Crash

An 11-year-old Dixon girl, Judy Knelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Knelson, 903 Jackson Ave., was injured about 10:30 a. m. today in a auto-bicycle collision at the intersection of College Avenue and Eighth Street.

The girl reportedly received only a skinned right shoulder in the mishap. She was not hospitalized.

According to Officers Ernest Smallwood and Charles Tuttle, the girl was riding her bicycle west on Eighth Street and crashed into the side of an auto driven by M. H. Frazier, 66, 1024 Cooper St., Dixon. He was driving south on College Avenue.

India's No. 1 Criminal Slain

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Police shot and killed India's public enemy No. 1 yesterday after a 27-year hunt which cost about two million dollars.

The long pursuit ended at Bind, south of Agra, in the death of bandit leader Man Singh. His gang has been charged with at least 153 murders, countless robberies and kidnappings.

Attend the Church of Your Faith Regularly

RIGHT IN THE HOLLOW OF YOUR HAND

That's where the well-being of your family rests. You want to give them every comfort and convenience in your power. You want to keep them well-fed, well-clothed, and well-housed.

You want them to enjoy every advantage of modern science—through electricity, telephones, movies, radio, and television. Nothing, you say, is too good for those you love.

Of course, then, you'll want something more. You'll want your family to possess that exhilarating and priceless quality known as spiritual well-being—a conviction that God is the Supreme Being in the world.

With this faith your life will abound with hope and you will experience a sense of true security in these uncertain times. To God your destiny is of utmost importance.

Through prayer and regular worship you will find a haven of protection for all your family—right in the hollow of God's hand. Go to Church Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

No Peace Unless Peron Quits, Says Catholic Bishop

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Unless Juan Peron resigns there will be no peace in Argentina, says Archbishop Jose Maria Cuenca of Manila, visiting in Los Angeles after a tour of Central and South America. "Peron does not permit the public manifestation of the Catholic faith in Catholic Argentina," the Archbishop said. "The people have no freedom of worship. Unless Peron resigns I foresee the outbreak of widespread revolution in that once peaceful country."

Truman Predicts Peace in World

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Harry S. Truman told a group of seven newsmen from the Far East Thurs-

American Bar To Hire Lawyer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The American Bar Assn. says it needs a lawyer to handle its affairs. The organization's House of De-

The proposal had been advanced by the Board of Governors to give it wider discretion in filling the $20,000-a-year post.

Oddity Almanac

Like Everything Else, Being A Teen-ager Costs More

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The oddity almanac:
If you think today's teen-agers do nothing but hang around street corners, you're got the younger generation all wrong.
A survey by Lester Rand, head of the Youth Research Institute, showed 7 out of 10 American teenagers hold down part-time jobs or earn money on the side. Their chief sources of income? Working in drug or grocery stores, typing at home, baby-sitting, ushering in movie houses.
Some 81 per cent of the teenagers receive a regular weekly allowance from their parents, but 3 per cent earn their full support themselves.
Being a teen-ager today, like everything else, costs more than formerly—and it costs more to be a girl than a boy. The survey showed that girls in the 13 to 15 age bracket outspend boys $2.72 a week to $2.11. The weekly spending of girls 16 to 18 years old averages $7.04, that of boys $6.93.
Teen-agers who date regularly spend an average of $5.55 a week on social activity.

Wren Boards Ship, Becomes An Old Hand

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—More than a year ago a tiny wren fell on a freighter a deck 200 miles at sea.
Harry Clausen, carpenter aboard the American President Lines' Shooting Star, fed the famished and exhausted bird.
He put it in a cage. But soon he allowed it freedom of the ship as the vessel called at Adak, Okinawa, Japan and San Francisco.
In Seattle Clausen took the wren
25 miles inland and turned it loose. Next morning the bird was pecking at Clausen's cabin door for his morning ration.
The bird can keep going to sea
with Clausen as long as it wants.
And he figures he should have picked a more fitting name than

President Nixon Clear the Diplomatic Air

President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon teamed up this week like a pair of diplomatic chefs: they fried a lot of fish with their speeches before the American Bar Association.

They left the Russians with no doubt—because the main theme of both speeches was identical—that this was a deliberate strategy agreed upon beforehand by the Eisenhower administration.

This was the main theme: In the upcoming negotiations between the United States and Russia, Moscow must prove its current friendliness by making concessions in the very fields where the Russians have declined to make them.

Eisenhower and Nixon called upon Russia to let Germany be unified, free the satellites, and end subversion in the non-Communist countries.

But the speeches served other purposes besides trying to put the Russians on the defensive before world opinion.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer goes to Moscow Sept. 9 and will ask the Russians to let Eastern Germany be unified with the Western part. The Eisenhower-Nixon speeches give him moral support even though by themselves they can't get him what he wants.

At the same time they prepare people in this country against a disillusioning letdown if the negotiations with Russia make no progress and the only result is to leave East and West where they are now: talking peace, yielding nothing.

The United Nations subcommittee on disarmament, including the United States and Russia, meets in New York Aug. 29. Next Oct. 27 in Geneva the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Britain and France meet.

The Eisenhower-Nixon double play will also:

1. Console those who, after Eisenhower's cordiality with the Russians, may have thought he was going to give America's shirt away.
2. Remind American allies—especially any who after Geneva had any inclination to relax a bit and reduce their defenses—that the cold war is far from over.

All in all, the administration got a lot of mileage out of the two speeches altogether whether, in the end, it was wise to make them depends on how the Russians react.

It had seemed possible after the friendly exchanges in Geneva in July that both sides would handle each other with kid gloves—publicly, at least—until they had a chance to test each other out in the August and October negotiations.

The two speeches before the bar association were the stiffest jolt the administration has given the Russians since Geneva.

If the Russians retaliate now with blasts at the United States or make major demands for concessions in public—as Eisenhower did to them—the slightly warmer cold war will turn a little colder.

One thing seems certain, whether or not they say anything publicly: the Russians are not likely to make any concessions of importance unless the United States is willing to do the same.

The Doctor Says Bursitis Quite Common; Treatments Give Relief

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

There seems to be no doubt whatever that bursitis is one of the most common, as well as painful, conditions afflicting mankind. A great number of people write me about this.

M. P., for example, says that many of her friends suffer from bursitis but that it seems as though each doctor has a different treatment for it. Perhaps the reasons for this observation which Mrs. P. reports will become obvious in a discussion of the subject.

Bursitis as the name implies, is an inflammation usually painful of one of the bursae of the body. There are many bursae, they are small pockets lined by delicate tissue lying near one of the movable joints.

BURSAS WHICH ARE particularly liable to inflammation are present around the knees, elbows, and shoulders though there are several others as well.

As a general rule bursitis starts rather suddenly. Under such circumstances the involved bursa is often swollen by the accumulation of fluid in the bursal cavity. Pain is usually quite severe and the area is also likely to be tender to touch. When moved the pain frequently becomes almost unbearable.

A single severe injury or lesser repeated injuries are common causes of bursitis.

Kneeing for a long time is likely to affect the bursa just above the knee and this condition frequently goes under the name of "housemaid's knee."

FOR SIMILAR REASONS bursitis around the elbow is called "tennis elbow."

Not infrequently a definite injury or other obvious cause cannot be identified.

The treatment for an inflamed bursa depends partly on the cause and partly on the degree and type of inflammation.

In the more acute conditions complete rest by means of a splint, bandage, or cast is often required. If the swelling is considerable and this pressure causes pain, some of the excess fluid may be removed through a needle. Since the fluid is likely to return, such removal may have to be repeated.

HOT WET BANDAGES may bring relief or heat applied by other methods is frequently extremely helpful. Deep x-ray treatments have also been used in some cases with success.

Chronic bursitis is too often resistant to all these forms of treatment. Injection of a local anesthetic into the bursa itself is often useful but may not bring lasting effects.

The injection of some irritating fluid called a sclerosing solution has been reported to be useful occasionally.

In the most resistant cases an operation involving removal of the entire lining of the bursa may have to be employed but this is usually avoided unless other measures fail.

It should be clear now why M. P. reports that her friends have received differing treatment.

In the long run most victims of bursitis recover, but they often suffer a lot before they do.

The first thing the average young man does when driving a new car is wonder if all the girls are looking.

Loafing around and trying to keep cool seems to be a very good way to get fat and not.

With a new petting patrol in a southern town the girls now also have to look out for the arm of the law.

Judging from the prolonged heat summer seems to have gotten her self a permanent wave.

Most any man is as good as his word unless he talks too much.

In Hollywood

By ERKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)— Behind the Screen: Marilyn Monroe in "The Brothers Karamazov" is with us now that NBC-TV plans to dramatize the Russian classic this fall with, it is hoped, Miss Wiggie Hips as Grushenka.

Also dreaming about Marilyn in the role is Hollywood Producer Eugene Frenke, who has a complete movie script based on the Dostoevski novel. Says Frenke and I suspect he's right: "It's a study in passion that would be good in Oskosh."

Reporting the NBC offer still on suspension-at-Fox Marilyn, Daily Variety flipped. "The trouble with dropping names is that frequently someone picks 'em up."

MARILYN'S VOICED desire seven months ago to play Grushenka always has been labeled "just a gag" in Hollywood. But now it seems to have become a running gag that's even good in Oskosh.

And maybe that's where it belongs—for good.

The big national magazines are hot to get Gable's life story. He said "No" five months ago but he's again listening to offers this time without comment except, "I'll think it over." . . . Rudy Vallee's 1000,000-word autobiography, now being edited and polished by George Frazier, has some "I've never told this before" confessions by Rudy that will lift many an eyebrow. Rudy's life would make a slick film and that's the plan. . . . Eddie Cantor wants out of his telefilm series after 39 films. He's saying: "It's just too much for me."

THE WITNET: Grace Downs after watching a movie villain ham up a murder mystery film: "He murdered everyone — and the dialog."

No scoffing, please, about dining at L'Escoffier. Even when you gulp about the prices that do not appear on the menus, from the $12.50 "Menue Classique" for "aspiring gourmets" to $15 per person for veteran food connoisseurs.

The Escoffier tradition of French cooking, dining and service is being introduced to Hollywood atop the new $16,000,000 Beverly Hilton Hotel and it's movietown's answer to "Let's impress 'em with lots of waiters."

L'Escoffier has waiters waiting on waiters who are waiting on waiters who are waiting on you. The lush sky room, with its panoramic view of Los Angeles and Beverly Hills, seats only 72 diners. Serving them are 58 "cousin-iers."

A NEW WAITER and a new wife arrive with every new course. Even the chefs come out of the kitchen for direct instructions. I'm no gourmet so I won't attempt to review by "preview" diner there. But brother, it wasn't ham on rye and I haven't seen so many waiters in one room since I reported a meeting of the local Waiters' Union.

Hollywood, town of epics, now even has an epic dinner.

And one of those waiters may even win an Oscar.

HEAR IT NOW: Bob Montgomery's daughter, Elizabeth, finally won her divorce — six weeks in Nevada and 42 hours in divorce time between Las Vegas and Warner Bros. She established residence there while enacting in "The Count — Marital of Bill Mitchell" — and had to be in the state at least once every 24 hours.

George Gobel playing the son of a hot dog kung in his first movie was nicknamed "Hotie" by Mitz Gaylor. Caught on so well they're using it in the script. May even wind up as the title for his remake of "The Lady Eve."

GENEVA—I presume you want to know what an atomic reactor is: Well, it is a round tank inserted in the ground about the size and of exactly the same shape as an old-fashioned dug well or a rain-water cistern. It is made of metal but an absolutely new kind of metal for which the physicists had to make up a new name one of a whole king's size dictionary of new names and other words which are sprinkled through the fifteen tons of mimeographed "papers" by scientists from all over containing a total of fifty million words.

I had lunch with Doctor Wu Ching, the Chinese Republican delegate to the United Nations atoms for peace conference, and was surprised and puzzled that they had even invented new Chinese words. Chinese, English, French, Russian, all 72 of the nations represented had to invent new words, each in its own language, which are scattered through the scientific literature which will finally be published in 90 volumes. The new Chinese word for the metal which the reactor cistern is made of sounds very much the same as an other Chinese word. It ends in "ung."

I spent a long time looking down into the cistern but when I sat down to compose this treatise I discovered to my great embarrassment that I had forgotten to ascertain the American word for this metal.

So I telephoned the Hotel Du Rhone to ask a young man from Union Carbide and Carbon, who had explained all about atoms, neutrons, fission and related matters as we leaned on the rail gazing into the blue depths of the cistern. And darned if I wasn't so full of new knowledge that I could not even remember his name to ask for him. They say Einstein was like that. He could not even remember his phone number.

So, instead, I asked for Joe K. Smith, of the INS, but, fortunately, he was out. I saw fortunately because I had nothing to take up with Joe and if I had made a pretext of saying, "I just wanted to ask how is Eileen," who is his wife and very beautiful, he probably would have said, "Why, you darn fool, I told you at lunch she was fine and here I am on a dead-line trying to explain what a cerenkovian radiation image does to a willamite photon."

Still, you would feel an awful chump phoning a French hotel clerk and saying, "I forgot the name of the man I want to talk to."

"This young fellow is tall and kind of narrow in the beam, with light wavy hair and he lives near Knoxville at the Oak Ridge job. To look at him on a panel show, you might guess him for a hoksey-pokey man. But step on the starter and he begins to discharge knowledge so clogged that, in desperation, you fix your gaze on a pipe which looks simple enough and ask what does that do? But there is nothing simple about a reactor. This pipe was a control rod leading from the control drive down through the cistern water to the fission chambers, which look like larger pipes, and into the reactor core where the stuff is which gives out the pale blue light about the shade of a second-rate sapphire.

I am strictly a low-ceiling scientist myself. Long division is my limit. So, after asking two or three scientific questions and getting the worst of it, I said how did the White Sox do yesterday? He knew the answer to that, too.

He said it was too bad the people were intimidated by the terms and symbols of this new realm of science which will mean so much to humanity within the next few years. Because, really, if people would just relax and sort of roll into the pitch with a nice, confident swing, they would have the intuitive and enjoy themselves. But I don't know. Just mention figures and I lighten up. But how would you act if a fellow handed you a table with three columns of symbols headed "Nuclide, Half Life and Specific Activity (MC G element)" and with these cabalistic entries across the board: "XA24 14.9H and 210"? I know what 210 means.

I was not a total loss, you understand. I am not going to undervalue myself just for a laugh. I don't give a dam whether you laugh or not. Who do you think you are?

I asked him how it happened that the surface of this water had dust on it. He said, "That isn't the surface, that is a layer of plastic. It keeps people from throwing gum-wrappers and cigarette butts down into the water. And if anyone should lose their balance and fall in, the plastic would hold them up until we could rescue them."

Well, doesn't that go to show? He was crowded with knowledge like a two-headed prodigy and saying those kind of things. That is progressive education for you. I would like to see his spelling.

Then he said: "Down in the bottom where you see the heat waves radiating from that yellow box, the water is full of iodine. You would be dead in two minutes."

I said, "If it isn't confidential, I have been hearing for years that old Einstein was an awful plagiarist who let his ballyhoo put him away as the inventor of all the science whereas there was a big heap before he ever cracked a book and that many contemporaries contributed things which the public gave him credit for. I said Benny Stolberg wrote that he had a wonderful knack for backing bashfully into the limelight. How about that?"

"Well," he said, "I tell you. I called on him once with two other physicists and for about an hour we expounded a scientific proposition. At the end, he contributed just two words. Einstein said: 'I agree.'"

Older People Living Longer In Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—More older people are living longer in Illinois, the State Health Department said today.

The 65 and over age group has increased more than 34 per cent in four years, totalling 86,000 persons as of last July.

"One of the great problems is how to provide facilities and care for the many people who are having to live the rest of their lives with either a disabling illness or with an illness that sharply curtails them in activity and vigor," the department said.

Health department statisticians said the pertinent fact is that the number of persons in the productive years, 20 to 64, is not increasing as fast as the 65 and over group.

Adventists Buy Estate Of Gangster

BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—(P)—The palatial, 80-acre estate of the late Louis Campagna, one-time bodyguard and henchman of gangster Al Capone, has been sold to the Seventh Day Adventist church and will be converted into a sanatorium.

The estate is located south of nearby Berrian Springs, where Seventh Day Adventists operate Emanuel Missionary college. The sale price was not disclosed.

Campagna, 57, died of a heart attack in Miami last year. His widow died three weeks ago in Berwyn, Ill.

Sale of the estate was announced by Mrs. Ruby Caldwell, a Benton Harbor real estate operator.

The 80 acres are surrounded by a 10-foot high wire fence and overlook the St. Joseph river. The public never got a look at it, but Sheriff Erwin Kubath did in 1943 when he went there to arrest Campagna on a parole violation complaint from Chicago police.

Kubath said it included a big, palatial residence, servants' quarters, outbuildings and a swimming pool.

Campagna had a long record as a Capone mobster, and in 1943 he was convicted on conspiring to extort a million dollars from West Coast motion picture executives.

He was sentenced to 10 years in federal prison, but was paroled before completing it. He was known variously as "Little New York" and "Lefty Louie" Campagna.

Wildcat Walkout Hits Purina Plant

ST. LOUIS (P)—A wildcat walkout of production workers at a Ralston Purina plant here spread Thursday to an East St. Louis, Ill., warehouse of the firm.

The walkout, which began Wednesday, stemmed from the firing of an employee described by the company as incompetent. Business Agent Larry Long of the AFL International Longshoremen's Local 1642, of which the 200 strikers are members, described the walkout as unauthorized.

A truck trying to make a delivery from the plant here to the warehouse in East St. Louis was blocked by strikers, a company spokesman said. He added that customer trucks were stopped at the warehouse and the drivers asked not to enter the area.

The committee said Frances Reifel, a Chicago school teacher, and Dr. George Saxton, associate professor of medicine at the University of Illinois, have announced they will sign under protest.

Gerwin Rohbach, landscape artist for the land clearance commission, said he signed under protest and plans to resign in the fall.

The committee said Sara Pickus, a substitute Chicago school teacher, plans to refuse to sign.

All 13 named signed the employees' statement.

25,000 on Strike

FRANKFURT, Germany (P)—Spreading labor walkouts left 25,000 workers idle in West Germany today. Shut down by wildcat stoppages were two shipyards in Hamburg and a locomotive works at Kassel. The strikers are demanding pay boosts to meet rising living costs.

OREGON—(Special)—Rhoda L. Davis, Polo, was granted a divorce today in Ogle County Circuit by Judge Leon A. Zick. Mrs. Davis charged her husband, Elmer G. with desertion.

Airman, Wife Enjoy Their First Honeymoon at Resort

DELAKE, Ore. (P)—Airman Daniel Schmidt and his wife Una were enjoying what they called their "first honeymoon" at a coastal resort cottage here today.

Schmidt, 23, and Una, 20, were reunited in Portland late Wednesday, nearly a week after he had filed suit for divorce in Red Bluff, Calif. He came home recently after 2 1/2 years in a Communist Chinese prison camp and was told she had remarried.

He agreed to a reconciliation in a telephone call from his wife in San Jose, Calif.

Sent Plane Fare
He sent her plane fare and she arrived at the home of his mother Mrs. Ray Peters in Portland, about 90 miles northeast of here. After spending Wednesday night there they drove here, not disclosing their destination.

The Friends committee listed these in addition to Bradshaw, as having refused to sign:

Paul Gardscu, a planner for the Chicago Land Clearance Commission, who said he was "regretfully advised" that he no longer has "employment access" to his office.

Asked to Resign
At the Illinois State Training School for Boys, near St. Charles, William Hinley, a house parent, Marion Nowlin, a teacher, Fred Davis, recreational aid, and Nita Hinley, a teacher, all were asked to resign.

Elaine Fisher and Rosaline Voight, recreational aids at the Chicago State Hospital, who resigned upon request.

Nancy Freutel, a teacher at Evanston Township High School, who the committee said is working without pay.

The committee said Frances Reifel, a Chicago school teacher, and Dr. George Saxton, associate professor of medicine at the University of Illinois, have announced they will sign under protest.

them late Thursday night in a cottage off beautiful Devils Lake and Schmidt said, "We are very, very happy."

"We have no definite plans. We're just going to enjoy ourselves for awhile."

Schmidt said he was overjoyed to see his son Daniel Jr., 3, for the first time. The child was born while he was overseas. Una brought him from California to Portland, where he remained today with Schmidt's mother.

Una's mother, Mrs. Walter Ferguson, who accompanied Schmidt from California for his reunion with his mother Tuesday, left Thursday night by bus for her home in Red Bluff. She said she left her car, in which they made the trip, so that Danny, Una and the child could visit her.

Denies Divorce
Mrs. Ferguson denied she ever had urged Schmidt to divorce her daughter.

Schmidt and Una had been married only a few weeks before he was sent overseas as a B29 crewman in the Korean War and was shot down and captured.

Schmidt confirmed that he dropped his plan to divorce Una. She said lumberjack Alford Fine, whom she said she had married in the belief Schmidt was dead, is "definitely out of the picture."

Attorneys in Portland said the marriage to Fine "never existed legally" because she was married to Schmidt.

Don't Use New Crossing Yet, State Requests

The State Highway Department office in Dixon today requested that motorists not use the section of Rock Island Road under construction for the new approaches to McRobert's Crossing.

M. M. Memier, chief engineer, said the bridge floor is in now, but the bed for blacktopping is not complete. He said with favorable weather the job should be done by Sept. 15.

Memier listed two reasons for having no traffic on the road now. He said through traffic delays the crews working and could delay completion of the job. He also said being in the work zone is hazardous for the motorists due to the large equipment in use.

Some motorists reportedly have been entering the area during the day when parts of the barricades are removed to allow trucks working on the project to enter. Memier said the road is completely barricaded at night.

Hurricane Edith Will Grow In Intensity, Say Experts

MIAMI, FLA.—(P)—Hurricane Edith, fifth of the year and third this month, churned far out in the Atlantic today and weathermen predicted it would grow in size and intensity.

Sull small as hurricanes go, Edith had winds of 75 miles an hour (hurricane force) or more over a small area near the center after two days of whirling in the open sea.

The Miami Weather Bureau advisory said: "Hurricane Edith was centered at latitude 25.6 North longitude 62.6 West or 1,000 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N. C., at 5 a. m. EST.

Moving Northwest
"The storm is moving toward the northwest at 13 m.p.h. and highest winds are estimated at 80 m.p.h. Hurricane winds extend out about 70 miles to the north and east and 75 miles to the south and west of the center . . .

"The hurricane is expected to increase slowly in intensity and size and to continue moving towards the northwest at about 13 m.p.h. for the next 12 to 18 hours."

Weather forecasters said it was too early to predict what course Edith might take once she reached maturity. A weather forecaster predicted the storm would have winds of about 125 miles an hour by Saturday.

On Same Path
Thursday night Edith was within 100 miles of the area where Hurricane Diane was plotted Aug. 12. Diane, sweeping northwestward five days behind Hurricane Connie, lashed the populous Northeastern states with torrential rains, causing damage estimated at $1,600,000,000 or more.

row to meet Faure. Reports persisted that he already had resigned or was about to, but Faure told newsmen Thursday that the resident general had neither quite nor been recalled.

While the talks continued, French forces in Morocco attempted to track down some 6,000 members of the Smaala Berber tribe whose horsemen swept down from the Atlas foothills to take part in the Oued Zem massacre Saturday.

French army officers said about 2,000 tribesmen and the families had disappeared from their usual haunts and moved toward the upper ranges of the middle Atlas Mountains.

Softball Team Loses Game, Bet; All Join Navy

SPRINGFIELD, Mass.—(P)—The "Terrors," a softball team, challenged a local Navy team to a game, promising to enlist if the sailors won.

Today the 10-man squad enlisted en masse at the local recruiting station and will be shipped to Bainbridge, Md., for basic training.

The sailors, headed by Cmdr. D. K. Davidson of the recruiting station, defeated the Terrors 9-7 Thursday night and their captain, J. T. Flaherty, led his teammates into the recruiting station this morning.

Traffic Court
Police Magistrate Lawrence Boos Thursday night fined William J. Harney, 25, 514 Grant Ave., Dixon, $15 for speeding. He was arrested Thursday by Officers William Boehme and Dean Coss.

WORKMEN GO HIGH IN THE AIR as they dismantle an old fire escape at South Central school. Two escapes will be installed. The man on the lofty perch is Kelley Swanson, Rockford, and in the foreground is Lloyd Morre, Dixon.

Dixon school officials today reported on its summer improvements and housekeeping projects.

Topping the list was the completion of remodeling the cafeteria and kitchen on the fourth floor of the high school building to make five classrooms and a speech correction room. Equipment for the rooms includes new furniture, green chalkboards and bulletin boards. The entire project was done for a cost of about $20,000.

Final grading of the new athletic practice fields near the Borden plant has been done, and the area will be seeded about Sept. 1.

List Work

Other work done at the high school includes painting the fence around the athletic field, a new gate for the east fence around the field, repairs for the boys' toilet on the third floor, purchase of a new wall washing machine and a new all-purpose vacuum cleaner.

Work is being rushed at South Central School to complete installation of new fire escapes before school begins. A new fire alarm system has been ordered and will be installed. All loose plaster has been replaced and painted, and the gymnasium side walls and ceiling have been repaired and painted. The band room has been plastered, painted and sound-proofed. The playground has been resurfaced. The cooking room has a new gas stove.

In Lincoln School all broken windows, plaster and linoleum have been repaired or replaced. There has been a considerable amount of painting and repairing done in toilets, and linoleum side walls have been washed and waxed.

New Flag Pole

A new 40-foot flag pole has been installed at Woodworth School. All rooms were washed, the steps to the basement and the outside doors were painted and the furnace repaired.

All walls, windows, woodwork and lights in Hazelwood School have been washed, and light fixtures repaired. The flag pole has been painted and fitted with a new rope. The incinerator has been replaced, and the outside doors have been repaired. Workmen removed a swinging door to the basement.

The kindergarten and library of Jefferson School have been painted, and metal strips have been ordered for the bottom of gym lockers to keep out lint and dirt. A considerable amount of washing and waxing has been done. Light-proof venetian blinds for the band room have been ordered.

Six rooms in Washington School have received two coats of paint, and metal strips for lockers like those in Jefferson School have been ordered. The work has included washing and waxing.

New Sidewalks

Grand Detour School now has cement sidewalks on the west and south sides of the building and a blacktopped basketball court. New lights have been installed in the west basement room, and the flag pole has been painted and fitted with new rope. All downspouts have been repaired, and walls washed where needed.

No report was available on the Nachusa School since it entered the district late in the summer.

In addition to the work listed above, all windows have been washed on the inside, and some on the outside. The housekeeping chores have included cleaning of summer work, credited custodians and extra workers with a good job. Bowers told Supt. Sherwood Dees. "As you know, this has been a hot summer; the men have worked hard and faithfully."

TNT Truck Rams Tree; No Blast

SENECA, Ill. (AP)—A truck loaded with TNT rolled driverless three blocks down Main street Thursday but failed to explode after striking a tree.

Passersby gaped helplessly as the big semi-trailer, marked plainly as an explosives carrier, rolled aimlessly down the street.

The vehicle brushed against a parked car and fire hydrant before smashing into a tree. The jolt failed to set off the TNT.

Earl Dornick of Joliet, the truck driver, had parked his vehicle outside the Bagget Transportation Co. after picking up his explosives cargo from a factory outside of Seneca.

He set the air brakes and went inside. Slowly the truck began to move.

The collision with the tree caused an estimated $2,500 damage to the truck's cab. Damage to the parked car and hydrant was minor.

Connecticut's Industrial 'Lifeline' Mass of Ruins

By JAMES DEVLIN

WATERBURY, Conn. (AP)—The Naugatuck Valley, known as Connecticut's "industrial lifeline," is as smashed by floods as though a Panzer division traveled its length with all barrels blazing.

"It looks like the end of the world," muttered an old man on Torrington's East Main Street, shaking his head unbelievably at the damage.

"I'm near 80, and I thought I'd seen everything, but never anything like this."

From Torrington, down through Thomaston, Waterbury, Union City, Naugatuck, and on to Seymour, Ansonia and Derby, grim scenes still unfold a week after the waters struck.

Waterbury presents one of the starkest pictures in its so-called "Brooklyn" section.

There the search for bodies still goes on in the masses of debris.

The scene is concentrated on a knocked-out railroad bridge.

So powerful were the floodwaters that wreath cars on the bridge were knocked about like egg crates.

One green and yellow box car was thrown into a tenement house, ripping away the side of the building. The green and yellow car stands on a red car, which in turn settled on top of a black open freight car.

Wedge against what's left of the bridge are tons of lumber and other wreckage.

"There are still bodies in there," said George Russell, a Health Department inspector.

Bridge Stands

A concrete highway bridge just below and parallel to the railway bridge still stands. But against it lies an uprooted six-family tenement.

Other houses simply evaporated. You see a foundation here, a sink there. That's all that tells you that Riverside Street once was lined by homes.

Even residents of Waterbury are barred from this roped-off disaster area, patrolled by National Guardsmen. Only those on emergency duty are permitted in.

Buildings and homes are removed the wreckage, almost piece by piece. And as they do, another body turns up. Civil defense workers go through the area spraying buildings still standing with DDT the way a farmer sprays his orchard.

The floods, ironically, now are producing virtual duststorms as the mud dries.

Even in the center of the city, flooded but less hard hit than the Brooklyn section, the dust stirred up by traffic and winds is such that traffic policemen wear masks.

In Torrington, the voice of a tough-looking policeman quavers as he says:

"We've never had anything like this—not in the memory of the oldest residents or anywhere in the records."

These awards show why 3 out of 4 families have soft water the Culligan way.

Prisoner Nearly Freed In Mixup

CHICAGO (AP)—A prisoner held in Cook County Jail on a charge of murder nearly won his release Thursday because of a mixup in names. It was the second case of the wrong prisoner with the right name in criminal court this week.

Charges of escaping from a Montgomery, Ala., road gang were scheduled to be dropped against a Thomas Brown because Alabama no longer wanted to extradite him.

Brown, however, had been released from jail several days ago. The court had not been informed. Another Tom Brown, 30, appeared between two deputies, who said he was the defendant in the case.

Asst. State's Atty. Bernard Deeney, who had told the Brown already released he need not appear in court, questioned the Brown who appeared and discovered he was being held on a 1949 murder charge. The second Brown was sent back to jail. The cause of the mistake was not discovered.

Earlier this week Andrew Fullilove, 35, charged with assault with intent to kill, was released on bond put up for A. J. Fullilove, 26, accused of stealing a cow in Mississippi. A. J. Fullilove got out of jail the next day, after the mistake in names was discovered.

Police are still hunting for Andrew Fullilove.

Balanced U.S. Budget Aim of Administration

By FRANK O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, using words he has cherished ever since he took office 2½ years ago, now says the government "should and can" balance the budget this fiscal year.

But he added at a news conference Thursday that it is "entirely too early" to pledge himself to recommending tax cuts when Congress returns in January.

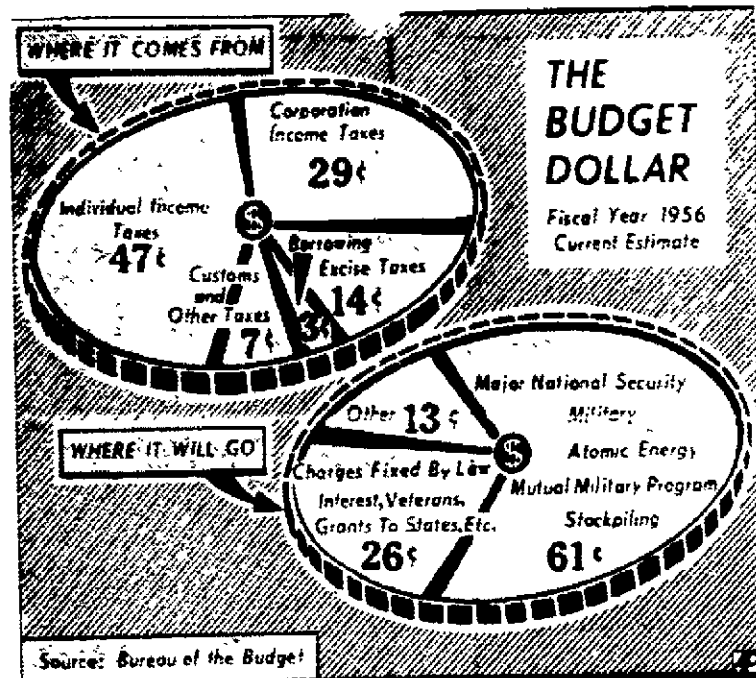

The official summer budget revision by the Treasury Department stopped $1,700,000,000 short of Humphrey's optimism about the budget outlook. The Treasury still predicted a deficit of that amount by the end of fiscal year 1956, next June 30.

Lower Than Forecast

That was 700 million dollars lower than the figure President Eisenhower forecast in his budget message to Congress last January. The cut was based on the following revised estimates:

1. Spending will total $62,800,000,000 this fiscal year—$1,400,000,000 more than the January estimate, but 700 millions less than spending of $64½ billions in fiscal 1955, ended June 30.

2. But the government's income will be swelled enough by the rapid economic expansion now in progress to more than overbalance

THE BUDGET DOLLAR—This chart, based on figures released by the bureau of budget at Washington (Aug. 25), shows how the budget dollar will be spent during the fiscal year, 1956. Chart also shows sources from which the budget dollar will come. (AP wire-photo chart) the rise in the spending estimate. Receipts for the current fiscal year are now estimated at $62,100,000,000—$2,100,000,000 above the estimate made last January, and $1-000 forecast in January. The deficit for fiscal 1955 was $4,200,000,000.

Five-Year Low

The new deficit would be the lowest in five years, and would be only 3 per cent of total spending.

Even so, there was every indication that the $1,700,000,000 red ink forecast was little more than official caution. The budget review text said it was possible that "a balanced budget will be brought into sight as the year unfolds."

And Humphrey, obviously enjoying what he was saying, read the following statement, made jointly with Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes, to newsmen:

"If there is ever a time when our budget should be balanced, it is now."

"Americans are enjoying new peaks of prosperity... but this simply emphasizes the need for wisdom and restraint in both public and private affairs."

"Everybody knows that no family can continually live largely beyond its means. It is worse for government to do so. History shows how continued heavy deficits contribute to inflation, with rapidly rising costs, finally resulting in destruction of all values... Barring some unforeseen development, we think that we should, and that we can, balance the budget this year."

Tax Cuts?

This brought immediate questions about tax cuts. Humphrey refused firmly and repeatedly to say the improved outlook necessarily meant taxes could come down next year. Just as firmly, he declined to say tax cuts would not be made.

Democrats in Congress have said they will initiate tax cut legislation early next year, regardless of the administration attitude. But before he could back any such move, Humphrey said, he would have to be able to see beyond a balanced budget, to a "trend" of surplus income. He said that did not mean he would have to have the surplus in the government's tills before he backed a slash in tax rates. He said he would plump for lower taxes as soon as he could look ahead and see the extra income on the way.

He declined to discuss what types of tax reductions he might recommend, but in the past he has said they should be broad, benefiting both individuals and business.

The new budget estimates boosted spending for atomic energy to an all-time high of $1,900,000,000 for both bomb materials and peaceful application of atomic energy.

Three Take Cuts

But the other three major national security programs, the armed forces, military aid and stockpiling, took cuts. These resulted in a defense spending dip of 1½ billion dollars below last year, to a new post-Korea low of $38,750,000,000.

Most nondefense spending totals were higher than estimated in January, and higher than actual spending in the fiscal year just concluded.

The budget review predicted a rise during the current fiscal year in tax receipts from almost all major sources. It said the yield from personal income taxes would rise most, by some 1½ billion dollars, to $32,800,000,000, while corporation taxes would rise about 900 million over last year's total, to about $19,200,000,000.

The Dixon Evening Telegraph Friday, August 26, 1955 Page 9

On the spending side, the picture was mottled, a mixture of ups and downs compared to last January's estimates.

Geneva School for Girls Gets Praise Despite Critic

GENEVA, Ill. (AP)—"Substantial improvements" are being made at the State Training School for Girls at Geneva, a State Youth Commission advisory board said Thursday.

"The program authorized by the Legislature this year has not yet had time to show results," said State Sen. R. G. Crisenberry (R-Murphysboro), chairman of the commission's correctional service advisory board.

He made the statement after the board listened to charges by State Sen. Lottie Holman O'Neill (R-Downers Grove), a frequent critic of the school's operation.

Crisenberry said the school had been operated for the past two years while hampered by insufficient funds. He said adequate funds have been made available this year by the Legislature to insure improved operation. The Commission assumed operation of the institution in January 1954.

Mr. O'Neill asked the board to dismiss the superintendent, Miss Mary L. Shaughnessy of Peoria. The woman legislator charged that commission rules and regulations were being ignored or violated. The board took the matter under advisement.

Mrs. O'Neill previously had charged that security at the school was lax. She also has criticized the handling of narcotics at the institution in addition to charging there was little or no supervision of inmates' morals.

"Business couldn't possibly be as bad as some of the commercials."

Hershey To Be Chief Justice

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Justice Harry B. Hershey of Taylorville will become chief justice when the Illinois Supreme Court convenes Sept. 12.

He will take over from Justice George W. Bristow of Paris, who has been chief justice during the past year. The post is rotated annually among the court members.

Hershey, 70, was elected to the high court in 1951. At the September term, the court will be reduced to six justices because of the illness of Charles H. Davis of Rockford. A heavy docket of cases will be up for rulings or arguments.

CAN'T TOUCH IT WITH A 10-FOOT POLE—Jimmy Shockley, 7, demonstrates how dry it has been in the area as he stands on the end of the boat dock on his parents' farm near Lawrence, Kan. He's trying to touch the sunken water level with the proverbial "10-foot pole." As Jimmy summed it up: "It's sure a long step to the boat."

QUITE A "THING"—This fearsome-looking monster is the Marine Corps' latest amphibious weapon. The "land-going destroyer" is called "Ontos," a Greek word meaning "The Thing." Developed by the Army, Ontos carries six 106-mm. recoilless rifles, four 30-caliber spotting rifles and one 30-caliber machine gun. Before firing the forward-aiming recoilless rifles, Marine crews draw a bead with the spotting rifles. All six 106-mm. rifles may be fired in salvo. Ontos is called a hit-and-run weapon because after firing, the vehicle runs quickly for cover to reload. Its General Motors 145-h.p. engine speeds it at 40 m.p.h. Ontos will be produced at the Allis-Chalmers' La Porte, Ind., plant.

Navy Rescues Pair on Plane Down on Lake

CHICAGO (AP) — A Navy rescue boat sped 25 miles offshore Thursday to rescue a Chicagoan and his son who put down their disabled amphibious airplane on Lake Michigan.

Rescued were Joseph R. James, the pilot, and his teen-aged son, Robert.

The plane was en route to a suburban Chicago airport from Battle Creek, Mich., when the engine began to falter. James radioed for help and set down the plane some 25 miles east of Waukegan, Ill.

Six Navy planes from the nearby Glenview Naval Air Station flew to the scene and hovered over the downed aircraft until a crash boat arrived. The boat was dispatched from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, north of Chicago.

The plane was towed ashore. An officer at Great Lakes said a plugged fuel line or carburetor trouble apparently prevented the flow of gasoline to the engine.

Sinatra Out Of Top Role In 'Carousel'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Frank Sinatra has been replaced by Gordon Macrae in the lead role of "Carousel," 20th Century Fox Studio's film version of the Rogers and Hammerstein musical.

Sinatra didn't report for work at the "Carousel" location at Booth Bay, Maine, this week. Thursday night the studio announced that Macrae was given the role. He was instructed to report to the studio Monday for pre-recording sessions.

On Sept. 2 he will fly to Booth Bay for three weeks' shooting. Shirley Jones, Macrae's co-star in "Oklahoma," will play opposite him.

Sinatra told newsmen in the East that he left the location because the film is being photographed in two processes. He said he did not intend to make two pictures at once.

DESIGNED COIN

The "pine tree shilling," first New England coin, was designed by Joseph Jenks who, in 1644, molded the first iron made in America.

Another Ransom Bill Turns Up

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Another of the missing Greenlease ransom bills has turned up but the FBI won't say whether it is making any real headway toward solving the two-year-old mystery.

James Milnes, agent in charge of the FBI here, reported Thursday night a second $26 Greenlease note had been found this month. It was discovered by an FBI agent at the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis Tuesday. The federal bank handles receipts from hundreds of banks in several states.

Milnes declined to say whether any more of the missing $303,720 had been found or whether the FBI was near a solution of the case.

The investigation was stepped up with the discovery of one of the bills Aug. 4 by an airport attendant at Minot, N. D.

There have been signs the Minot discovery represented the FBI's first real break in the case. The FBI is reported to be checking on the movements of certain figures in the ransom mystery and their associates.

Three other Greenlease bills previously reported found are believed to have been from the money Carl Austin Hall, the kidnaper-killer of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease of Kansas City, spent shortly before his arrest.

The FBI is known to have serial numbers of the $10 and $20 bills in each packet of the record $600,000 ransom paid in the kidnap-murder in September 1953.

Hall insisted, just before he was executed with his accomplice Bonnie Brown Heady, that he had nearly all the ransom when arrested in St. Louis Oct. 6, 1953.

The policemen who arrested Hall, Louis Shoulters and Elmer Dolan, are serving prison terms for lying about their handling of the suitcases from which slightly less than half of the ransom money was recovered.

He Comes Back

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Eighteen years ago Joseph Moreau, Vancouver, B. C., carpenter, visited Los Angeles. He liked it and decided to come back.

Thursday he returned, this time for good. He brought with him his wife and nine children.

"I didn't want to leave Vancouver before I got started with a family," he explained at the airport.

An estimated 233 million people live in North America.

Find Boy Wedged Between Shelves Of Refrigerator

DETROIT (AP)—Missing for two hours, 4-year-old Gary Patterson was found jammed between two narrow shelves when his mother opened the refrigerator Thursday night to get a bottle of milk.

Nine-days-old baby sister Linda had cried for food. This may have saved Gary's life.

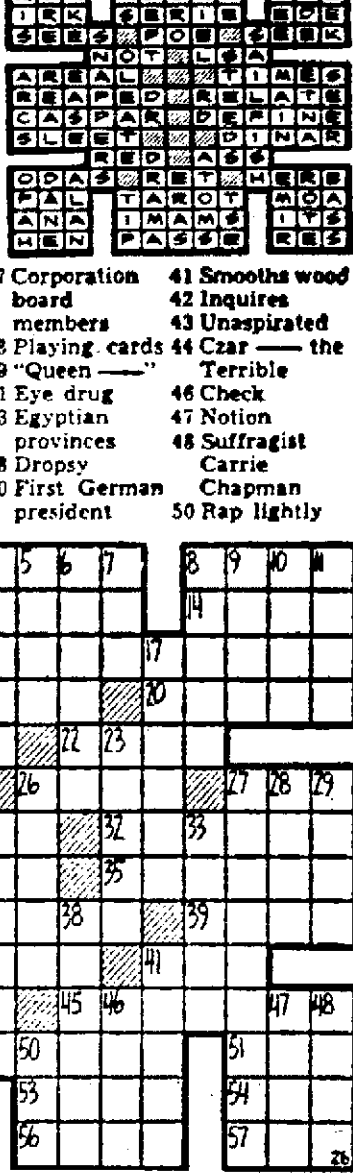

The boy's disappearance had touched off a police search. "He was frothing at the mouth when I found him," Mrs. Thomas Patterson said.

Taken to a nearby hospital, Gary was warmed and sent home. He couldn't explain how he wedged himself into the narrow shelf space but he insisted: "Somebody shut the door on me."

WEIGHT FROM GRAVITY

Things have weight because of the attraction of gravity. The weight of a body is the measurement of mutual attraction that exists between the earth and that body.

Gives Roadside Aid; Kicks and Robs Motorist
SANDWICH, Ill. (AP)—A good Samaritan turned robber and took $270 from Robert Dieterline. It happened this way, related police chief Carl Waters: Dieterline, of Sandwich, had a flat tire Wednesday near Sandwich. A motorist stopped to help. After they repaired the tire, the unidentified motorist kicked Dieterline in the stomach and took his wallet containing $270. Dieterline scribbled the license number of the fleeing auto on a towel. But he couldn't read his scribbling when he went to police to report the robbery.
